

The birth in 1978 of Louise Brown, the first child to be born following conception by In Vitro Fertilization (IVF), heralded a new dawn in the management of infertility. Up till then, there was little hope for couples experiencing difficulties with conception.

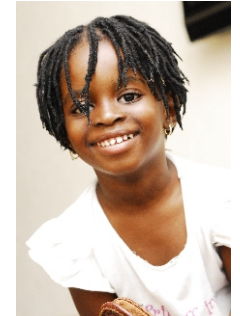

The Bridge Clinic has always had the tradition of showcasing pictures of our babies at birth and at different stages in their infancy. As you walk through the clinic today, you are welcomed with pictures of the attitude of a potential star, a promise made of commitment to service, the focus of a winner and the passion of dreams of children born in the early days.

The early difficulties with public acceptance of IVF quickly evaporated and with the dramatic improvement in pregnancy rate, IVF has over the years evolved to become the cornerstone of infertility treatment.

The Bridge Clinic, the first focused IVF clinic in Nigeria, was set up in 1999, with the objective of providing Nigerians with the same standard of fertility treatment available in the UK. In 2000, we were blessed with the birth of our first babies, a set of twins who were born following conception with the revolutionary new technique of Intra Cytoplasmic Sperm Injection (ICSI).

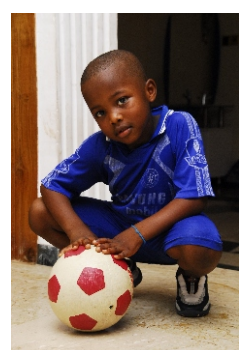

Further on, you will be intimated with the achievements of champions who have succeeded in their individual quests in sports and beauty pageants.

Since then, we have been able to assist a lot of couples and have been blessed with the birth of almost 1000 babies who are developing well and are bundles of joy to their families.

Finally, you will be enveloped by the inquisitiveness and personalities of pre-school children; the sincerity in the smile, the freshness of toddlers and sights and beauty of new births.

A photo exhibition was organized in March 2009, as part of our 10th anniversary celebrations to celebrate the achievements of The Bridge Clinic and all children born following treatment at The Bridge Clinic. It was an opportunity to show case their beauty, their unique individualism and most importantly, to celebrate the achievements of these brilliant, dynamic and wonderful children.

WELCOME TO THE BRIDGE CLINIC where we give HOPE as we assure you of QUALITY.
